Letter from Braxton.

To the Editors of the Intelligencer.

BRAXTON C. H., W. Va., Feb. 7. GENTLEMEN: I am much obliged to you for handsome "calendar for 1873." Find it exceedingly useful and ornamental in my office, and hope its notoriety may contribute to the further circulation of your able and efficient Republican journal in this portion of the moral her-

. With the faint flicker of light that we of Braxton have, it is not possible for us to endorse or approve a single act of the so-called present Legislature, consequently we have no interests in common with the people of this State, as at present represented by their agents at Charleston; and as a matter of self-protection, will make an early-motion to annex with the independent province of Webster. Hope your "Pan Handle" may be safely housed in the arms of Pennsylvania before moral, political and financial ruin shall have terminated the labors of the political incendiaries at Charleston.

G. F. TAYLOR. Yours truly,

POLITICAL CORRUPTION. Is the subject of an editorial in the St. Louis Democrat in which the evil is thus fairly traced to its source in a wide-spread public demor-

All this shows that while there is corruption in the high political life of the country, it is there in a great measure, as a necessity, created by the lower political life; that Senators bride Legislatures because Legislatures can not be controlled cause Legislatures can not be controlled without bribery: that a man spends money in a Schatorial canvass because all his opponents spend it, and because he would have no earthly chance without it. It is the fashion to flatter "the people," and tell them how essentially hone; they are as compared with the politicians. But we begin to doubt the truth of all this. The nearer we get to the people the more corruption we find. The Legislature is more corrupt than Congress, although it is a body fresh from the people, and in is a body fresh from the people, and in great part composed of the honest yeo-manry—"the bone and sinew of the land"—and all that sort of thing. A convention, which is a step yet nearer to the vention, which is a separate people, is generally more corrupt than either Congress or a Legislature, and a primary meeting, which is, or ought to be, the tox populi pure and simple, is the most corrupt contrivance know to politice These are unpleasant facts to relate or to inplate; but we appeal to the ob-ion of any man as to their undenia calls attention to some facts which go to calls attention to some facts which go to show that the alarm about the destruction of timber on this continent is by no means a sensational one. In an estimate made in the report Department of Agriculture for 1870 it is shown that all the pine timber in the region between the Mississippi on the west and Lake Superior and Michigan on the north and east will disappear within the next twelve years, while the hard wood will last only twenty-four years if the present rate of twenty-four years if the present rate of consumption is kept up, and no means be employed to replace the wood consumed. In this region about 330,000 acres are definided each year, and to compensate for this only 150,000 acres are planted annually throughout the entire West. One means by which this fatal destruction was kept up and fostered until quite recently was the protective tax laid upon control the control of t forcing lumber by the government, which brought capital into the domestic lumber business, and besides operating adverse-ly to our building interests denuded the land of forests which were imperatively needed for sanitary purposes.

The movement for a session of the new Congress, to begin on the 4th of March, does not meet with much favor. The Springfield Republican says: "Butler and his carpet baggers have undoubtedly been busy of late, and not unlikely it is a part of the game to stave off, if not shove clean over, some of the appropriation bills, and so force their point. But the better opinion seems to be that what with Mr. Blaine's strength, and what with the dissensions among his enemies, and what with the natura," desire of Congressmen to run away as soon as possible from these terrible investigations, the counsels and plottings of the extra sessionists will come to naught.

It required the astuteness of the Nation to extract from the Credit Mobilier expo-sures a moral to the effect that protective tariffs are demoralizing, and that all gov-eromental subventions to internal improvements or ocean steamship lines fountains of iniquity. The Chicago and Boston conflagrations were made to do duty as free trade arguments, and now the demonstrated fact that not all Con-grssmen are above taking bribes is turned suprised now if the next earthquake or celipse of the sun is brought forward as an argument in favor of permitting the bulk of our foreing trade to be carried or in subsidized foreign ships, and of clos-ing our factories and foundries at bidding of the English monopolists,-Philadelphia
